

Message from President Elect

It is with mixed feelings that I send this message to the first issue of the Journal of South Asian Federation of Menopause Societies (SAFOMS). Establishment of SAFOMS followed much discussion and exchange of opinions for many months and the founder President Dr Behram Anklesaria was the central figure and the key person in the formation of this federation, bringing together all the member countries. It was his wish that the first volume of the journal is published and issued at the next conference, the reigns of which were given in the able hands of none other than Dr Jaideep Malhotra, who has toiled day and night to put this all together and I must congratulate her and SAFOMS for achieving a very big milestone. I am very sure that the Journal will add a lot of value to the federation.
